

THE SCHOLARSHIP OF TEACHING AND LEARNING

This section contains:

- List of courses taught in resident instruction at Penn State for each semester with enrollments in each course
- List of courses and workshops taught in support of outreach-based instruction, including continuing and distance education, service learning courses, international programs, cooperative extension programs, and clinical assignments at Penn State
- List of advising responsibilities
- Concise compilation of results of student evaluation from multiple sources, documented evaluation of candidate's programs, activities, and skills in relating to clientele
 - If student comments from such sources as student evaluations, formal interviews, or exit surveys are reviewed, the findings should be presented by a summary statement that conveys the students' sense of strengths and weaknesses.
- Faculty input concerning the evaluation of teaching effectiveness, including any statements from colleagues who have visited the candidate's classroom and evaluated his or her teaching, or who are in good position to evaluate outreach-based instruction or advising
 - Peer review shall consider a range of teaching activities including, but not limited to, the development of materials such as case studies and class assignments, course or teaching portfolios, advising, research collaboration, and graduate student mentoring. Internal letters about teaching effectiveness should be included in this section.
- Any statements from administrators which attest to the candidate's teaching and advising effectiveness
- Other evidence of resident and/or outreach-based teaching and advising effectiveness (e.g., performance of students in subsequent courses; tangible results and benefits derived by clientele; recipient of teaching awards)
- Supervision of graduate and undergraduate dissertations, theses, projects, monographs, performances, productions, and exhibitions required for degrees; types of degrees and years granted
- Supervision of other undergraduate research
- Supplementary materials, including such items as case studies, teaching portfolios, assessment tools, etc.
